y-SIS Newsletter

One More Summer to Remember

After an exciting and intense season of y-SIS activities, it is finally time for a well-deserved break! The past few months have been packed with exciting activities, including our conference (StaTalk 2026), the overnight data challenge (Stats Under the Stars[9]), and several sessions and awards at the SIS–FENStatS 2026 meeting. For real-time news and updates, don't forget to follow us on Twitter, Instagram, Facebook and LinkedIn!

StaTalk 2026

TORINO, MAY 21-22

StaTalk 2026 welcomed more than 90 young statisticians in Turin for two days of scientific exchange. The programme featured a tour of Turin, a keynote lecture, several invited and contributed sessions, and a poster session with 36 contributions! Congratulations to Leonardo Marchesin (PoliMi), winner of the Best Poster Award.

We are very grateful to everyone who participated and helped make it possible! A special thanks to the main sponsor and all supporters for their collaboration, and to the local organizing committee for their outstanding work. Thank you all!

Stats Under the Stars[9]

ROMA, JUNE 21-22

The 9th edition of Stats Under the Stars (SUS[9]) brought together 17 teams of young night owls statisticians in Rome at Sapienza University.

Congratulations to the winning teams: Bayesian Chainsaw (UniTs), Best Project Overall award; La Fittata è Fatta (UniPd), Best Objective Prediction award; Stay ImBRUTTIti (UniRoma1), Best Quality of the Report; and RCS (UniRoma1), Honourable Mention for Business Relevance. Finally, we would like to thank our partners and sponsors for making this event possible.

SIS-FENStatS 2026

ROMA, JUNE 22-25

Y-SIS actively participated in the SIS-FENStatS 2026 Joint Meeting, by organizing solicited and specialised sessions, promoting its activities, and presenting the annual y-SIS awards, which received more than 40 applications.

Congratulations to Teresa Bortolotti (PoliMi), for the y-SIS Best PhD Contribution Award 2026, and to Giada Lo Galbo (UniPa), who received the honourable mention. Congratulations also to Sirio Legramanti (UniBg), for the y-SIS Best Young Contribution Award 2026, and to Silvia Dallari (UniBo), who received the honourable mention.

We warmly thank all applicants, the award committee for the Best Young Contribution Award, and everyone who took part in the y-SIS Assembly!

y-SIS Board Elections

AUTUMN 2026

At the end of 2026, three members of the y-SIS Board will complete their two-year mandate.
If you are interested in contributing to the y-SIS community, we encourage you to start thinking about applying for vacant positions!
More information about the election process and the application timeline will be shared in autumn. Stay tuned!

y-SIS all around

Don't miss the opportunity to join upcoming y-SIS activities at international conferences across Europe!

Upcoming events include: a half-day workshop at CIBB 2026 (September 1, Rome) dedicated to Statistical Principles and Practice of Single-Cell Data Analysis, led by Andrea Sottosanti (UniPd) and Dario Righelli (UniPd); an invited session at the 20th International Joint Conference CFE–CMStatistics (December 12–14, Berlin), entitled y-SIS Session: Fresh Perspectives from the Italian Statistical Society. We look forward to seeing you there!

A few snapshots from an unforgettable summer with y-SIS!